

Michael D. Nosler Scholarship

The law firm of Lewis Roca is committed to making the legal profession more diverse, inclusive, and reflective of our society and the clients and communities we serve. With that aim, we established the Lewis Roca Rothgerber Christie LLP Michael D. Nosler Scholarship. The scholarship honors and recognizes our Partner, Michael D. Nosler, who has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to diversity in the legal profession.

This scholarship program will provide an opportunity for a talented second-year law student to receive $10,000 towards his or her law school tuition upon completion of a paid internship with Lewis Roca during the first semester of the recipient's second year of law school. In addition to financial assistance, the scholarship program is designed to provide the recipient with a learning experience that will develop and enhance his or her legal writing skills and provide exposure to the private law firm environment and the real-world practice of law - thereby promoting the educational and professional development of the recipient.

The program is competitive; one recipient will be selected each year from either the University of Denver Sturm College of Law, or the University of Colorado School of Law. Candidates will be evaluated based on their law school and undergraduate academic records and performance, extracurricular activities, leadership attributes, work or real-world experiences, a written personal statement, and letter of recommendation.

Program Overview

Eligibility:

The scholarship will be awarded annually to a second-year law student who brings a diverse perspective to the firm through life experiences or unique circumstances. This scholarship opportunity is open to second-year students from either the University of Denver Sturm College of Law, or the University of Colorado School of Law.

Considerations:

Application, resume, law school and undergraduate academic records (transcripts) and performance, leadership attributes, extracurricular activities, work or real-world experiences, written personal statement, letter of recommendation, and office interview.

Timing of Application Process:

A cover letter, completed application, resume, undergraduate transcript, law school transcript, written personal statement and one letter of recommendation must be received at Lewis Roca by Friday, March 15th, 2024. The cover letter and materials should be addressed to Veronica Samaniego, Lawyer Recruiting Director, 201 E. Washington Street, Suite 1200, Phoenix, Arizona 85004-2595 and sent via email to LawyerRecruiting@lewisroca.com. Top candidates meeting the stated criteria will be invited to a personal interview with Lewis Roca attorneys.

Clerkship and Stipend:

The scholarship recipient will start his or her internship in August on a mutually agreed-upon date. The individual will intern at the firm for at least 10 and no more than 20 hours per week, for the entire Fall semester (or 12 weeks) and will receive a semi-monthly stipend during the term of the clerkship.

Scholarship:

Upon completion of the internship, Lewis Roca will pay the $10,000 scholarship to the recipient's law school for their law school tuition.

Offers of Employment:

The purpose of this program is educational in nature and designed to foster the applicant's overall development. No offers of employment are guaranteed or promised. Nevertheless, candidates who are successful in the program may be considered for additional job opportunities with the firm, at the firm's discretion, on a case-by-case basis.
